[The subjoined poem, singularly suggestive in spirit and rhythm of Poe's "Raven," appeared anonymously 40 years ago-10 years after Poe's deathin a New York newspaper. It purported to have been dictated to a spiritualistic medium by the dead puoet, whose untimely death in these same "streets of Baltimore" occurred on the 7th day of October, 1849.]

Woman weak and woman mortal

Woman weak and woman mortal, through thy spirit's open portal I would read the Runic record of mine earthly being o'er— I would feel that fire returning which within my soul was burning When my star was quenched in darkness, set to rise on earth no more, When I sank beneath Life's burden's in the streets of Baitimore.

There, at length, weak and 'wildered, sick and dying,
And my shattered wreck of being to a kindly refuge bore;
But my woe was past enduring, and my soul cast off its mooring.
Crying, as I floated onward, "I am of the earth no more!
I have forfeited Life's blessing in the streets of Baltimore!"

Crying, as I floated onward, "I am of the earth no more!
I have forfeited Life's blessing in the streets of Baltimore!"
Where wast thou, O Power Eternal when the fiery flend infernal Beat me with his burning fasces till I sank to rise no more!
Oh! wes all my lifelong error crowded in that n'ght of terror?
Did my sin find explation which to judgment went before,

Nay, with deep, delirious pleasure I had drained my life's full measure,
Till the fatal flery serpent fed upon my being's core;
Then, with force and fire volcanic, summoning a strength Titanic,
Did I burst the bonds that bound mebattered down my being's door—
Fled, and left my shattered dwelling to the dust of Baltimore!

The Canal Company insures nine feet of water at present time between the locks, and in a few weeks they will have ten feet of water in the canal. The Canal Company insures nine feet of water at present time between the locks, and in a few weeks they will have ten feet of water in the canal. The Canal Company has dredged fitteen feet in depth for a distance of three thousand feet below the lock in Deep Creek. They have also made deep water below South Mills Lock, in the waters of the Pasquetank river. The Canal Company has dredged the old Turner Cut to the depth of ten feet at low water. Thus far the Canal Company can insure a sufficient depth of water.

The Canal Company would not at present guarantee a safe passage between Norfolk and Ellasbeth City for any of the resulting than seven and a half feet of water, as the Pasquotank has one shoul place, and beep creek at low water has not more than seven and a half feet of water, as the Pasquotank has one shoul place, and beep creek at low water has not more than seven and a half feet at the present time.

The Government has approprinted money to deepen and widen Deep Creek, and also to deepen and straighten the water-way of the trasquotank river. This work is to commence at once. The Company in the meantime intend to improve and widen can all and water-way between the points named that cannot be excelled in this country.
